AN INCIDENT OF GETTYSBURG

Georgian Gets His Treasure From Pennsylvania After Forty-odd Years.

An incident of the late war of Confederate and Federal soldiers on the Gettysburg battlefield reads something like a romance. It is the story of how a treasured copy of the Holy Scriptures, lost by a Georgia soldier, returned to the possession of a Pennsylvania soldier for more than forty years and then in an indirect result from the war, found its original owner.

When the survivors of Gettysburg returned to their homes, they took with them old battlefields and mementoes of the Confederate army. One of these was a small, old, leather-bound Bible, which was found by a Pennsylvania soldier, who had been a member of the Federal army.

The Bible was found in a field near the town of Gettysburg, Pa. It was a small, old, leather-bound Bible, which was found by a Pennsylvania soldier, who had been a member of the Federal army.

STRONG AND LUSKY AT 76

The Honorable Moritz Ellinger, who has been prominent in literature and politics in New York City for the past fifty years, pays tribute to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, the great family medicine and renewer of youth.

MORITZ ELLINGER, 76 YEARS OF AGE

Mr. Ellinger was born October 17th, 1830, at Firth, Bavaria. He now holds the responsible position of interpreter in the Surrogate's Court of New York City, and was Coroner of City of New York for 6 years.

"After over fifty years of active life, engaged in the various official positions I have filled in the civil, literary, social, political and financial organizations with which I have been connected, and the various civil positions I have occupied, during all of which time I always found myself mentally bright and physically active, I attribute, to my deep regard for the healthful and strengthening qualities of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which I have been drinking for many years. I have frequently noticed the announcements of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey which appear in the columns of the press, and naturally viewed them, as being a well-earned testimonial from many other similar, patent medicines offered to the public, and paid no attention to them.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

It is absolutely pure, gentle and strengthening stimulant and tonic. It builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives energy to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces of the body, and is a most valuable remedy for all ailments of the system. It is a most valuable remedy for all ailments of the system. It is a most valuable remedy for all ailments of the system.

Sold by all druggists and grocers, or direct, in sealed bottles only, never in bulk. Price $1.00 per bottle. Beware of cheap imitations. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

MURPHY BRINGS HEARST TO KNEES

Candidate, in Dudgeon at McCarran, Becomes Submissive When Seen by Connors.

STANDS BY BUFFALO DEAL

Tammany Men Now Declare There Never Was Any Misunderstanding.

NEW YORK, October 6.—W. H. Hearst has surrendered to Charles F. Murphy. Instead of nominating a local Independence League ticket in New York county, he will accept the place on the regular Tammany ticket that Mr. Murphy sees fit to give him. His sudden capitulation followed the delivery to him of a message from Mr. Murphy by the Hearst-Murphy go-between, W. J. Connors, in Manhattan yesterday. The nature of this message could not be ascertained last night, but it was effective.

Mr. Hearst was in a highly excited frame of mind when Mr. Connors arrived. He had begun the day by reading Senator McCarran out of the Democratic party, repudiating the regular Democratic local ticket in Brooklyn, and announcing that he intended to put an independent ticket of his own in the field there to fight the regular nominees.

It had been semi-officially announced that this attack upon McCarran was to be followed by an onslaught upon Murphy, and that the Tammany leader's head would fall under the Hearst hammer. Then Mr. Connors appeared and told Mr. Hearst what Mr. Murphy had directed him to say. The effect was instantaneous.

The Independence League candidate yielded down, and at the first opportunity he turned over to Mr. Connors his list of names for the regular Democratic ticket in New York county.

Put on Defensive. Mr. Hearst's sudden change of mind, which he entered into his deal with Murphy, Hearst had turned friendly upon the Democratic organization, the content of which was stolen in his behalf in Buffalo. It is the hope that by accepting the regular Democratic ticket, he would be able to win back some part of the confidence in his motives which he forfeited when he made his bargain with the Tammany leader, he was leading an independent campaign against the regular Democratic ticket in New York county.

Much of Mr. Hearst's excitement is attributed to his disappointment at the Independence League, who have been repudiated. Mr. Hearst's sudden change of mind, which he entered into his deal with Murphy, Hearst had turned friendly upon the Democratic organization, the content of which was stolen in his behalf in Buffalo. It is the hope that by accepting the regular Democratic ticket, he would be able to win back some part of the confidence in his motives which he forfeited when he made his bargain with the Tammany leader, he was leading an independent campaign against the regular Democratic ticket in New York county.

It Pleased Murphy. Mr. Murphy said Mr. Hearst's demagogic attack upon McCarran with apparent satisfaction. He said the attack was a most effective one, and that Mr. Hearst's sudden change of mind, which he entered into his deal with Murphy, Hearst had turned friendly upon the Democratic organization, the content of which was stolen in his behalf in Buffalo. It is the hope that by accepting the regular Democratic ticket, he would be able to win back some part of the confidence in his motives which he forfeited when he made his bargain with the Tammany leader, he was leading an independent campaign against the regular Democratic ticket in New York county.

Washington Special. Train Spends Day in Lexington and Then Goes to Staunton. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LEXINGTON, Va., October 6.—The "Greater Washington" expedition train, consisting of two excursion cars and one private Pullman car, returned to Lexington this morning, and spent most of the day here, leaving this afternoon for Staunton.

The express cars were tastefully decorated with flowers and bunting, and were accompanied by a band of twenty gentlemen had charge of the exhibit.

The purpose of the train is to call the interest of dealers and business men of the South in Washington as a market.

Mr. and Mrs. Boucher Here. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LEXINGTON, Va., October 6.—The North Carolina contingent, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Boucher, are the guests for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Caswell, of Barton Heights.

Mr. Boucher was State attorney for Mecklenburg county, N. C., at the same time that Mr. Caswell was county attorney for Mecklenburg county, N. C., and the two families are acquainted of long years standing.

Mr. Boucher is president of the National Association of Penitentiary Wardens, and enjoys the distinction of being, perhaps, the only man in the country to have been called to the wardenship of a penal institution outside his own State, having a few years ago been tendered the wardenship of the Minnesota State Penitentiary at Stillwater. He declined the honor.

Mrs. Thomas in Washington. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, D. C., October 6.—The musical event of the week in Washington was the song recital given by Mrs. Mattie Thomas, soprano of Richmond, at the Indiana Theatre, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of Mrs. Oliver.

Mrs. Thomas was in fine voice, and gave her difficult program with rare finish, and was warmly applauded. Many of the important officials now in town for the season were present, as well as the most representative residential society. Admired and Mrs. Perry occupied a box.

Will Wed in Baltimore. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, D. C., October 6.—Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Rev. Henry Taylor Cook, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, this city, and Miss Marie Louise Snowden, of Baltimore, Md., to be celebrated at Grace Protestant Episcopal Church, Baltimore, on Wednesday, October 21st.

Visible Cotton Supply. NEW YORK, October 6.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton shows an increase for the week just closed of 129,000 bales, against 125,000 bales the week before last, and an increase of 28,338 year before last. The total visible is 2,148,159, against 1,788,227 last week, and 2,060,704 last year.

If you need a strong, liberal bank to assist you in building up your business, you will find the First National Bank of Richmond, Va., with its $8,000,000 assets, equipped for that purpose.

Colored Finney Will Speak on His Life and Work.

Colonel W. W. Finney, of the Fifth Virginia Infantry, U. S. A., will deliver an important and inspiring lecture to-morrow night at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on General Wade Hampton, patriot, soldier and statesman, one who inspired himself to his people as he inspired his countrymen, and whose life and work are a source of inspiration to all who follow him.

There is, perhaps, no man more fitted to deliver such an address than Colonel Finney, who was one of General Hampton's personal friends, and has made an exhaustive study of the life and character of the distinguished soldier. A few years ago he was for three seasons chosen to present a portrait of General Hampton in the Chamber of Deputies, and his address on that occasion is the basis of the present lecture. All who attend will find his presentation of General Hampton's life exceedingly interesting and instructive.
